Winters Run Golf Club

Winters Run Golf Club was established in 1972 on 200 acres of scenic farmland in Bel Air, Maryland, just 20 minutes north of Baltimore. With large, sloping greens, the 18-hole championship golf course lies nestled in the heart of Harford County.

When you arrive, you'll be amazed at the beautiful landscape that's free of distracting commercial and residential developments that mar the beauty of other courses. Although Winters Run easily accommodates walking, you'll find that it offers challenges and enjoyment for players of every levels.

The 18-hole course at the Winters Run Golf Club facility in Bel Air, Maryland features 6,750 yards of golf from the longest tees for a par of 72. The course rating is 72.2 and it has a slope rating of 128 on Rye grass. Designed by Raymond F. Loving, Jr., ASGCA, the Winters Run golf course opened in 1973.
